Julie Arant NORTH AMERICA

We primarily serve unreached international students in our city. Afghanistan, Bangladesh, India, Japan, China, Mongolia and Kazakhstan are a few of the countries our students come from. Our home group Bible studies average 100+ students. Additionally, our activities with students include welcome picnics and boating parties that pave the way for gospel conversations and discipleship. We have a ministry called "Bikes to Bibles" transporting Bibles to Afghan refugees, who are invited to attend our Bible discovery groups.

- That the Lord would continue to bring the nations to our community to hear the gospel.
- For our support base to grow.
- That our ministry would expand into more cities to reach more students.

Rich & Joyce Bademan NORTH AMERICA

We have served with Cru for decades, the Jesus Film Project, and now focus on helping to organize and speak at Christmas Gatherings all over the world. Through this, we are able to lead a time of fellowship, enjoy treats, and talk about Christmas traditions. At the end, we explain the true meaning of Christmas and how those in attendance could know Christ personally. We also help those who accept Christ get connected to local churches.

- For our family, that our kids and grandkids will continue to seek God and desire His plan for their life.
- For wisdom as we consider how best to spend our time and energy in ministry.
- For continued outreach opportunities, that we are able to continue to lead Christmas Gatherings and share the gospel.

Zane Black NORTH AMERICA

Our ministry includes preaching the gospel to teenagers and training them to share their faith with those in their sphere of influence. We also pastor touring musicians and have launched an intensive Missions and Discipleship program. We have created an on ramp for Grace NXT Students to take part in a short term mission trip in California called "Surf, Serve, and Share" where they can live out what they have learned about sharing Jesus in everyday life.

- That the students we equip grow in their understanding of the Bible and sharing their faith with others.
- For courage and boldness for students to step out of their comfort zone and share the love of Christ with others.
- That I continue to depend on Jesus and seek His wisdom and direction for the ministry that is ahead.

Lautaro Churuvija NORTH AMERICA

I serve as a missionary with Steiger International. Steiger mobilizes followers of Jesus to reach young people who would not walk into a church. My main focus is to grow Steiger City Teams in the United States and Canada. I do so by encouraging local church engagement and planning mobilization trips.

- That the global youth culture we serve would have a radical encounter with Jesus.
- For unity among our teams of leaders across the world.
- For growth in church partnerships globally.

Molly Cox NORTH AMERICA

I serve with YoungLife Capernaum in their expansion efforts to reach more students for Christ in our surrounding communities. The purpose statement of my ministry is to introduce young people with and without special needs to Jesus and help them grow in their faith. I come alongside our volunteers, providing resources, so that they feel equipped to serve the next generation.

- That students' hearts would be open and receptive to Christ.
- For wisdom and joy for our leaders as they come alongside students who are learning about Jesus.
- For wisdom as I seek the Lord about growing our volunteer base.

Brian DeVries NORTH AMERICA

We partner with businesses and churches to equip believers to engage in relational evangelism. Our event-based ministry fosters conversations of faith for believers to engage with non-believers. A large part of our ministry involves following up with participants, as it allows us to connect with them on a deeper level, and hopefully, leads to conversations that bring them closer to eternal life in Christ.

- That the Lord would soften the hearts of the people coming to the events and meetings we put on.
- For courage for attending believers to have gospel conversations with their non-believing guests they have invited.
- For wisdom that only comes from the Lord as we continue to lead these events, forums, and meetings.

Jennifer Eggers

NORTH AMERICA

I help oversee our team that reaches international students involved with Cru. This year I have had the privilege to study the Bible with students from Kazakhstan, the Dominican Republic, Oman, China, and India. Our team has also been able to disciple believers from India and China in order to equip them to reach their peers with the gospel.

- That we meet students who are open to the truth.
- That our students aren't blinded by the faith traditions from their home countries.
- For my 4 kids, that our family is being wise in how we spend our time between home and work.

Marcel & Elise Franco

NORTH AMERICA

While I grew up in Brazil and Elise was born in Minnesota, our journey of reaching young people outside the church has taken us across Europe, South America, North America, and parts of the Middle East, shaping who we are today. Through Lovin' Life, our mission is to equip and disciple the next generation to live on mission, regardless of occupation. Through intensive gap summer evangelism training, short-term outreach trips, and long-term local teams, we partner with local churches and ministries to train young people to boldly share their faith wherever God calls them.

- For wisdom to be loving and present in our family relationships while balancing ministry.
- For our children to grow into lifelong faith and their desire to know the Lord to increase.
- For God to open doors for new connections, the opportunity to equip more students, and guide the growth of LifeSchool.

Paul & Noelle Gebel

NORTH AMERICA

We have been serving with Cru for over 40 years, now with Cru's International School Project (ISP). As ISP's materials coordinator, I coordinate the translating, proofreading/editing, formatting, and printing of our various curriculums and Bible studies. I also serve as our crisis manager, ensuring the safety of any staff members or volunteers traveling internationally with ISP.

- For God's direction as we aim to walk in obedience each day.
- For salvation for our family members who don't know the Lord, that their hearts may be softened.
- That Noelle and I continue to serve Jesus (and each other) faithfully.

Tyler & Shayne Hartmann NORTH AMERICA

We serve as full-time campus staff for Athletes in Action. Our priority is to implement our mission of making disciples who make disciples on campus. God used Athletes in Action to call us into full-time ministry while we were student-athletes. Now, we are able to bring the gospel to students who feel called to impact their campus, community, and world for Jesus Christ. Our desire is to see athletic influencers transformed into Christ-like leaders.

- For more people to come and serve in our ministry.
- That the Lord would lead believers and non-believers with soft hearts to come to the schools where we are.
- That students and coaches would make decisions to follow Jesus.

Justin & Christa Henderson NORTH AMERICA

Our family is dedicated to reaching Native American youth on reservations where many face spiritual darkness, addiction, and a cycle of poverty. Partnering with local leaders, we build relationships through hunting and fishing outings, using the outdoors to share the love of Christ. In Wyoming, we also help operate a welding school for young men, equipping them with both a trade and daily discipleship in God's Word. Each June, we also join the Grace short term team to minister on the Wind River Reservation.

- For open doors and new roads on the reservation, as well as other potential partnerships with reservations in our region.
- That we rely on the Lord for strength as opposed to ourselves.
- For our family, that our children will come to love Jesus and serve Him.

Daniel Henderson NORTH AMERICA

Through our 6:3 discipleship strategy, we disciple pastors, equip church planters, and participate in Scripture translation. One of our primary focuses is supporting our renewal coaches as they disciple believers on how to support their pastors. We provide resources for church members to help them thrive fruitfully in their churches and conduct prayer discipleship forums in dozens of churches.

- For wisdom and discernment for our team as we care for many.
- That those planting churches can build relationships with the people in their communities.
- For my family, for me and my wife as we adjust to life in a new home, as well as our sons and their families as they serve the Lord in their respective callings.

Brad Henkel NORTH AMERICA

I partner with Arrive Ministries to identify and equip local volunteer believers who are ministering to spiritually open refugees. I work as a discipleship strategy coach, specifically walking alongside spiritually open Somalis. This looks like meeting men monthly for Bible study, prayer walking through Muslim neighborhoods, and collaborating with other ministries dedicated to making disciples.

- For Somali hearts to be open to receiving Jesus.
- For more local believers to feel called to serve Somali families adjusting to life in the United States.
- For our team as we continue to teach and train local believers to do the work of the ministry!

Pete & Dianne Henschel NORTH AMERICA

As a national development field director for Cru's campus ministry, my job is to increase the capacity of our field staff to execute our mission of turning students and faculty into lifelong laborers for Christ and His cause. Our team trusts the Lord and works toward ensuring that all our teams are fully funded. We do this by working closely with field team leaders, engaging with generous ministry partners, and sponsoring ministry events, and others that engage friends of the campus, new and old, in our mission.

- That the Lord continues to provide financially for our teams.
- For wisdom and direction in our ministry efforts.
- That more laborers are raised up for the harvest.

Clemens & Lauren Hilbert NORTH AMERICA

We serve alongside Missionary Athletes International, where Lauren is the Director of Women's Ministry and Discipleship. Our ministry includes building connections with coaches and players in our area, hosting an open house for women's ministry, starting women's summer training, and continued discipleship with players I have connected with.

- For our marriage, and our newborn!
- For the athletes we interact with, that we can disciple them well.
- For the physical health of our team, that our athletes are able to steward their bodies well to honor God with their talent.

Paul & Donna Konstanski

NORTH AMERICA

We serve in Global Communications for Cru, focusing on digital strategies that connect people worldwide to ministry resources, local movements, and opportunities to grow in their faith. Paul leads the development of Cru's global website, working to make it a central hub for ministry connections for those seeking faith communities to ministry leaders and partners.

- For discernment and guidance as Paul leads the development of this new website, ensuring it effectively connects people with ministries worldwide and serves as a strategic tool.
- That our ministry will strengthen digital ministry efforts and have a global impact.
- For us, we were blessed to recently welcome our 7th grandchild into our family — that our children and grandchildren come to know Jesus personally.

Tom & Jeannie Lamphere

NORTH AMERICA

I serve as chaplain for the Minnesota Vikings and serve on college campuses. I am spiritually leading players and coaches who work on college campuses and in the NFL across the league. I work with coaches and teammates to launch Bible studies with their teams. Jeannie comes alongside the wives of the players on the Vikings team and supports and encourages them.

- That these athletes put the Lord at the center of all that they do.
- That the coaches lead with Godly character and integrity.
- For the families of the players to feel the support and love of Christ through a very demanding season schedule.

Filipe & Allison Machado

NORTH AMERICA

Allison and I met while serving on mission together and we now lead the Steiger North America team. We mobilize followers of Jesus to reach young people who wouldn't typically walk into a church. By building and equipping missionary teams, we are grateful to be watching many lives transformed by the gospel.

- That God would give our team wisdom and creativity to discover new and effective ways to connect young adults with missions.
- For a spiritual breakthrough among young adults in America, asking God to tear down strongholds of apathy and the grip of overscheduled lives.
- For the development of strong, Spirit-led missionary teams in the nine U.S. cities where work is beginning, and for lasting gospel impact in each community.

Ed & Kari Maggard NORTH AMERICA

I serve as a Senior Associate with Leader Impact Global, a Cru strategy that equip leaders in over 60 countries to integrate their faith into work and life. I coach teams and develop discipleship resources to help leaders grow spiritually and influence others for Christ. We also share the gospel and disciple others through their local church and neighborhood, believing that transformed leaders can impact entire communities for God's Kingdom.

- For God's favor and guidance as we seek to expand into North Africa and the Middle East, where cultural and political challenges make ministry difficult.
- For wisdom and creativity in using digital tools to reach more people with the gospel and connect in meaningful, scalable ways.
- That Kari and I would be fruitful in our local ministry, especially as we build relationships and share Christ in our neighborhood.

Patty McCain NORTH AMERICA

I serve with Cru on the campus executive team as the Chief of Staff. My team focuses on peer-to-peer discipleship, launching movements of faith, mobilizing students and faculty into their spheres of influence, and growing as a multi-ethnic, multicultural missionary community.

- For more laborers for the harvest.
- For financial provision personally and over our ministry.
- For wisdom as I coach leaders for the ministry.

Charlie & Roxana Mercado NORTH AMERICA

We minister to new believers in a low income Latino community through Sunday worship, teaching, evangelism, and discipleship. The other aspect of our ministry focuses on training church leadership, using technology to reach more people in our area.

- For more volunteers to come alongside our ministry in our Latino community.
- That our church activities bring more families to our community.
- That the new believers we disciple grow and disciple others.

Sherry Mohamed NORTH AMERICA

I am part of a team serving displaced people from nations. My primary role is to provide biblically-based trauma counseling. The people I work with have a variety of emotional and spiritual struggles. I have the opportunity to help them navigate the pain and find healing through God's Word, practical support, and spiritual direction so they can know God and find clarity and peace in their journey.

- For continued opportunities to take my experience overseas to meet needs in Ugandan and Syrian refugee communities in Lebanon.
- For the people we serve to experience transformational healing that is only found through a relationship with Jesus.
- For financial provision for this ministry.

Tim & Wendy Moore NORTH AMERICA

I serve as Director of Short-Term Professional Teams and Exchange Fellowships, coordinating both team trips to the developing countries that Research Exchange International (REI) works in, as well as inviting nationals from these same countries to the US for professional training and cultural exchange while living in believers' homes. Wendy is the Communications Director for REI and oversee REI's Annual Report and website. She also assists in foundation relations and applying for grants for REI to receive. Because REI is a relatively newly independent organization, we both have ample opportunity to influence and contribute to the strategic development of REI.

- For wisdom for our leadership team as we follow the Lord's prompts in our decision making.
- For financial provision for our ministry.
- That the people we serve would come to know Jesus.

T. Cher & Mai Yia Moua NORTH AMERICA

Tutcha Orndorff NORTH AMERICA

Driven by deep gratitude for my own rescue story and a strong conviction to share the gospel, I serve with Treehouse, focusing on reaching struggling youth. Alongside my husband, Shane, and our dedicated team, we are passionate about offering these young people not just a chance for a better future, but the eternal hope found in Jesus Christ. Through a weekly support group and one-on-one mentorship, Chaska Treehouse provides an alternative to the destructive influences of the world, shining the light of Christ into the lives of those at risk of being lost.

- As we continue to look for an area director to support us by leading, handling fundraising, and marketing.
- For God to connect us with teens that we can support emotionally and share the Gospel with.
- For consistent and committed volunteers that want to mentor teens.

Mark & Marianne Ritchie NORTH AMERICA

We serve at-risk and unchurched youth across the Upper Midwest through the ministry of Timber Bay. A typical Timber Bay youth comes from a background of addiction, brokenness, and isolation — often acting out or suffering silently. As Vice President of Operations for Youth Investment Foundation/Timber Bay, I oversee all aspects of operational ministry, including camp facilities, Central Services, risk management, HR, accounting, donor services, and recruiting. I lead both the Camp and Central Services teams and also raise personal and camp-related support to sustain and grow this life-changing ministry.

- For creativity, resources, and provision to build two small summer staff cabins to support the growing team.

Jason Robinson NORTH AMERICA

I serve with the ministry Navigators on college campuses. I focus on leading, training and developing college students in evangelism and discipleship to impact their college campuses and the workplace. We are dedicated to reaching Immigrants, Internationals, and Refugees (IIR) with the hope of the gospel. Our aim is to win souls to Christ, disciple believers who love the Lord, multiply their faith, and empower them to carry the gospel to nations we may never reach ourselves. Through intentional relationships, practical support, and strategic partnerships, we envision God transforming lives right here in our city — and through those lives, impacting future generations around the world for Christ.

Farida Saidi NORTH AMERICA

My ministry focuses on making disciples and teaching MBBs (Muslim Background Believers). I encourage new Christians to connect with local churches, teach on leadership within the Muslim context, and help equip believers to plant new churches in their own communities. My goal is to see growing, rooted disciples who multiply their faith and impact their world for Christ.

- That our ministry provides opportunities to share truth with our brothers and sisters in Christ who have questions as they come from Muslim backgrounds.

Jimmy & Stephanie Sammons

We are passionate about reaching and discipling young people who wouldn't walk into a church. We bridge the gap between the church and young adults by going to the places where they are, meeting them in their communities, and sharing the hope of Christ. We serve with Steiger International focusing on creating spaces for meaningful connection and engagement with the gospel. Through creative outreach and relational ministry, our goal is to see young people encounter Jesus and become lifelong disciples.

- That God would soften the hearts of young adults and open their eyes to the truth of the gospel as we meet them where they are.

- That those who come to faith would grow in their walk with Christ and be equipped to disciple others, creating a ripple effect of transformation.

Abby Schumacher

NORTH AMERICA

I have a deep passion for equipping parents to disciple their children, a calling that grew out of my own journey of discovering the vital role of faith in the home. Seeing the challenges parents face — lack of time, overwhelming information, and cultural pressures — I provide a clear, biblical roadmap for family discipleship. Through teaching, training, and life-on-life discipleship, I partner with churches to help families lead their children to Christ, navigate biblical sexuality, and grow in spiritual maturity. My goal is to empower parents to raise their children in the knowledge of God's Word and the love of Jesus, building strong, faith-filled homes.

- God will continue to protect my marriage and our children from spiritual attack.
- For doors to continue to open that I may teach more parents how to disciple their children to know and love God.
- That God would pave the way for me to link arms with other ministries and organizations that are also passionate about family discipleship.

Chris & Holli Scott

NORTH AMERICA

Our ministry is rooted in discipleship and community impact. I primarily serve by teaching at the Center for Global Action (CGA), training World Race staff, mentoring students through one-on-one discipleship and counseling, and supporting program development and staff care. Chris contributes through consulting on routes in the 10/40 Window, helping shape global mission strategy. Locally, he also leads the sports programs at our YMCA, where we both coach hundreds of children each year — sharing the love of Jesus through relationships, mentorship, and everyday moments on and off the field.

- That students will be open and responsive to what God places before them during their time in the program.
- For wisdom, discernment, and gentleness for the staff as they walk with students through deep spiritual and emotional growth.
- For the continued growth of the program and for God's provision of the necessary infrastructure — housing, food, and resources — to support that growth.

Bekele Shanko NORTH AMERICA

I serve the Global Church Movement (GCM) and founder of GACX, helping to facilitate the development of church planting on a national, regional, and global scale. I also emphasize leadership development to increase the health of the churches we help to plant. - For wisdom for our team as we come alongside these church planters and care for their specific needs.

Angela Shultis NORTH AMERICA

I serve with TreeHouse, training leaders and church networks who come alongside many students who have yet to step into the four walls of a local church. We use the TreeHouse training and curriculum in our growing efforts to come alongside unchurched students in our community, pointing them to the love of Jesus and connecting them to a local church. Through this ministry, we aim to create lasting relationships that not only transform lives but also build strong foundations of faith that extend far beyond our initial outreach.

- That the unchurched youth we serve will come to know Jesus.
- For the training and discipleship of our leaders and church networks to be strengthened.
- For ongoing partnerships with churches in our city and around the country to grow.

Luke & Hannah Sollie NORTH AMERICA

We serve with Youth With A Mission (YWAM), and aim to train and disciple young believers into deeper relationship and maturity in Christ. We seek to share the good news of Jesus with those who don't have a saving relationship with God in Christ. We primarily accomplish this through street evangelism and short-term mission trips. Through these efforts, we are passionate about equipping the next generation of believers to boldly proclaim the gospel and make disciples wherever they go.

- That our maturity in Christ continues to grow as we surrender the work we do to Christ.

I serve with Cru and Jesus Film, planning and executing conferences for weekly campus ministry. Through the staff conferences, we train and equip new interns as they head out on their ministry assignments. Paul & Edna Headland

LATIN AMERICA

We were first sent by Grace Church in 1962 to a remote region of Colombia to live among the Tunebos people and translate the Bible into their language. Since retiring, I am still involved part time with the ministry by teaching and mentoring a young couple who are working alongside the Tunebos people, while Paul has retired completely due to his health.

- For the young couple who is currently in Colombia communicating the Scriptures well to the Tunebos.
- For the safety of the Tunebos believers.
- For slow progress of Paul's Parkinson's Disease and for strength for me to care for him.

Julio Herrera

LATIN AMERICA

I spend the majority of my time sharing the gospel, discipling men and women in a remote region, and training various pastors and leaders. In doing this, I have been encouraged as we have seen the transformation of the Holy Spirit in the lives of many in this region, and now get to support leaders as they share the gospel and make disciples who will make disciples in their communities.

- For a softening in the indigenous communities.
- For new doors to open that we may share the gospel in surrounding communities as well.
- For my family and my daughters, that they may continue to know the Lord and walk with Him.

Jorge Salfran

LATIN AMERICA

I serve as the Latin American Director of Encounters with God Through Baseball. I have the privilege of sharing the gospel on baseball fields across the Dominican Republic, partnering with coaches to host clinics, disciple players, and train new leaders — many of whom have gone on to plant churches. I also continue to mentor three pastors who launched churches after completing their training. Back in my home country, my focus is on strengthening believers, planting new churches, and equipping pastors through leadership training with the Antioch School and across denominational lines. Through these efforts, I am committed to raising up a new generation of leaders who will carry the gospel forward and impact their communities for Christ.

- For the challenges and needs of my home country, the government, and the various physical and spiritual needs of the people.
- For spiritual growth in my family, that my marriage, children, and grandchildren all glorify God.
- For fruitfulness in ministry, for strength and vision in church planting efforts, and for the continued growth of churches.

Ali Arhab AFRICA

I partner with other Christ-centered ministries in North Africa and in the Diaspora to have a unified focus of developing ministry leaders in the Muslim world. My ministry focuses on establishing disciples and leaders who impact their communities with the gospel. These leaders form ministry networks who establish further ministry networks, as discipleship continues to transform the hearts of North Africans in their local church communities.

- For wisdom for our ministry leaders who seek to disciple more people in their communities.
- For more opportunities for family to learn from church planters.
- For my sons spiritual growth as they serve alongside me in ministry.

Michelle AFRICA

Our focus as a team is to intercede over our district we serve in. We are passionate about building relationships with our community and coming alongside those who are hungry to learn more about the gospel. We continue to pray for doors to open as we walk in obedience.

- For doors to open in communities we haven't yet had the opportunity to go to.
- For additional relationships, that we will build friendships that can lead to gospel conversations.
- That I meet more people my age to be in community with.

Timothy & Debbie Johnson AFRICA

We serve through WorldVenture and provide member care for other missionaries serving in other West African countries around us. Debbie serves day-to-day directing the Oasis English Center and teaches adults English, while Tim is an elder at the oldest international church and is helping orchestrate the health arm of the church's new charitable organization that is being recognized nationally.

- That the leaders we are equipping right now will feel comfortable stepping into leadership independently in the near future.
- That the Lord would continue to raise up leaders in our ministry.
- That we will continue to have enough medical staff to serve at our family clinic.

David Kitonga

AFRICA

In my time pastoring a church in Nairobi, Kenya, I felt a deep burden to step away from a life of comfort to serve the poor. This calling led to the establishment of Haduma Church and school, a slum in my region. As the director of Africa Evangelical Ministries, I lead efforts in preaching, overseeing the school, evangelism, discipleship, and community development. I also train and mentor emerging leaders who are planting churches in similar challenging contexts.

- For the new church plant in the Mua Hills area, many young people in this area are experiencing hopelessness due to unemployment.
- For my time mentoring leaders, and my wife as she counsels families.
- For the 15 new disciples we have been training.

Abby

AFRICA

I am part of a ministry in Africa that has a medical clinic, agricultural farm project, three schools, and Bible studies for recent Muslim converts who have been working at the farm. These platforms, and the relational ministry that is done as a result, are a part of reaching the nations and seeing Kingdom transformation in people's lives. I will be learning the language and culture and also helping build relationships with the people the ministries reach.

- For wisdom, patience, and fluency as I learn the language and adapt to the local culture.
- For divine opportunities to build strong, trusting relationships with those I serve, especially the recent Muslim converts at the farm.
- For physical, emotional, and spiritual strength as I balance various responsibilities, from supporting the medical clinic and agricultural projects to teaching in schools and leading Bible studies.

David Mungai

AFRICA

Serving in Kenya, my ministry focuses on daily evangelism and teaching the Word of God to new believers. Through radio broadcasts, sermon writing, and voicing Scripture-based messages, I reach remote areas with the gospel. Whenever possible, I connect new believers to local churches and provide follow-up through personal visits, teaching, and literature distribution — including Bibles and solar radios for faithful listeners.

- For fulfillment of the dream to establish a recreation center that will serve as a space for connection, outreach, and gospel impact.
- For wisdom and sensitivity in communicating effectively across cultures as I share the gospel.
- For discernment and balance in managing time well.

Wellington & Jane Mutiso

AFRICA

I have had the privilege of serving as an evangelist, preacher, and teacher in Kenya for decades, alongside my wife, Jane. I lead First Baptist Church Athi River, a vibrant, diverse congregation that serves both the wealthy and the poor, preaching multiple services each week. As the principal of Grace Seminary, I teach and train pastors to lead with biblical truth, equipping them to shepherd their congregations faithfully. My vision is to win people to Christ, build them up through the Word, and empower them to go and reach the world for His Kingdom — fulfilling the call of 2 Timothy 2:2 and Ephesians 4.

- For God's provision and creative solutions to support the training of 200 pastors in 2025–2026 through Grace Seminary, especially as a previous partnership has recently concluded.
- That young people will sense God's call and respond by pursuing pastoral training and leadership development.
- For the successful planting of a new church in 2025 through First Baptist Church Athi River, and for the team and community that will support it.

We serve as missionary advocates for children and pastors, sharing the gospel and offering compassionate care to those in need. I coordinate training seminars for thousands of pastors, equipping them with biblical knowledge and leadership skills to faithfully serve their congregations. Through various outreach programs, we share the hope of Christ with street children and others in challenging circumstances, offering both spiritual and practical support. We also organize evangelistic basketball camps that serve as platforms for reaching young people with the gospel.

- That the training seminars would strengthen pastors in their faith and equip them to lead with wisdom and effectiveness, impacting their communities with the gospel.
- For the children we serve, that they would experience the love of Christ through our outreaches and find hope and healing in Him.
- For ongoing provision of resources, including the shipment of ministry books, that pastors would be equipped to grow in their knowledge of Scripture and effectively teach others.

We are working to establish a network of movements that reproduce disciples of Jesus Christ and church bodies of disciples throughout mainland SE Asia among unreached people groups. Our heart for this ministry is that the gospel is spread and led by locals. We will use a local access ministry to serve the needs of the locals in the hospitality industry, building relationships and ultimately gaining access to preach the gospel to the unreached. Through this approach, we aim to create sustainable, indigenous movements of discipleship that multiply and transform communities.
